Lifestyle Statement

Those who commit themselves to missions must first develop a love for Jesus and be committed to His command to go and make disciples. Second, they must be willing to do whatever is required in order to reach people for Jesus and develop a strong faith that will carry them through challenges and difficulties.

Bethany Urban Development staff and volunteers are required to abstain from practices that are forbidden in Scripture such as dishonesty, profanity, pornography, and immorality (including sexual relationships outside of marriage and acts of homosexuality). They are also responsible to guard themselves from sinful attitudes – jealousy, pride, hatred, gossip, prejudice, impatience, and worldliness (Galatians 5:19-21).

Love is the principle we should seek to live by, honoring others above ourselves, and not engaging in behavior that might be a cause for stumbling or offense. In addition, we should be careful not to participate in activities which desensitize conscience or hinder spiritual growth.

For these reasons, staff and volunteers are asked to abstain from non-prescription narcotics, hallucinogenic drugs and substances, tobacco, and excessive use of alcohol.

I have read the Lifestyle Statement and will accept it as my own while working with Bethany Urban Development.
